You Should See It When It's Crowded....

There's room for one or two more persons to edge into the crowd in the front hall at Appomattox County High School sometimes, but teachers and students "in the know" say that ordinary classroom changes are becoming more and more difficult because of overcrowding. Voters of Appomattox will have an opportunity on Nov. 3 to vote YES to a bond referendum to build a new senior high school. The referendum will allow the county to issue bonds and to obtain construction money at a lower rate than other methods open to the county. Interested persons are invited to attend meetings of the Appomattox County Citizen Committee for Better School, including the one Wednesday evening, Oct. 21 at 8 p.m. at the ACHS library. Earl Agee is chairman.

New Band Uniforms For ACHS

Friday night was "Hey, Look Me Over" night as 36 musicians of the Appomattox County High School band marched on the field in new gray slacks and dark blue jackets. Mrs. Ray Noble, president of the Band Parents organization, made the presentation of a uniform to John E. McLean, assistant principal, during half-time ceremonies that gave the entire crowd a chance to see the new outfits. Almost $50 was collected by Band Parents at the end of the game to help buy hats for the band. Mrs. Horace Folks was the narrator for the half-time ceremony. Lydia Ford and Edith Patterson did a "quick change" act by wearing out of the old uniforms to reveal the new ones. Frank Coffey is band instructor.

Sergeant Risks Life In Hijacking

Sgt. Dennis A. Moore, of Virginia Beach, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Moore and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence F. Moore, all of Appomattox, risked his own life during an attempted hijacking of a military aircraft in Vietnam.

His courageous performance on Aug. 11, 1970 has earned for him an Airman Award medal.

Details of the incident have been related by Lt. Col. L. C. Lythe, USAF Commander in information sent to the grandparents.

Sgt. Moore pursued an armed hijacker aboard a C-141 aircraft at Bien Hoa AB, RVN (Vietnam). He was the first person to sound the alert and call for help via radio. This was at the risk of being shot should he be overhead by the hijacker.

Twice the hijacker told him that he would be killed if he did not fly the aircraft within fifteen minutes. Sgt. Moore convinced the hijacker it was impossible for the aircraft to take off without certain ground actions being accomplished. Sgt. Moore, even though he left the aircraft at this time, voluntarily returned to the ship to protect the other passengers.

The hijacker did shoot and critically wound one of the crew members but was later disarmed by the navigator and first engineer.

According to Lt. Col Lythe, "Sgt. Moore's great courage, sense of duty and presence of mind, coupled with the voluntary risk of his own life prevented the possible loss of at least six lives, and the destruction of an extremely valuable aircraft. His actions, in the face of grave personal danger, reflect the greatest credit upon himself and the United States Air Force."

APPRECIATE VISITS

Pine View Rest Home has recently had religious services because of the interest of the Rev. Billy Washburn and members of his congregation; also, because of the regular visits of the Rev. L. L. Schwemer, Spout Spring Baptist Church, and the Rev. Blankenship of Lynchburg.

Mrs. Marie Tyler, owner and manager of the Rest Home says that the guests here will have lots of home canned food this winter, thanks to gardens and the canning potatoes.

The public is welcome to visit.

Wed In Double Ring Ceremony

Rogers - Trent

The marriage of Miss Helen Darnell Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Rogers, to MR. Robert E. Trent, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Trent, Sr., all of Appomattox, was an event of Saturday afternoon, October 18, 1970, at 2 o'clock in the Memorial United Methodist Church.

The Reverend Alfred Eastman, pastor of the church, officiated in the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full length gown of white peau de soie with a lace bodice trimmed with beaded pearls at the high neck line and at the cuffs. Beaded pearls also trimmed the flowing train of the gown and the bridal veil. She carried a white Bible topped with a corsage of pink roses and pink streamers.

Mrs. Gayle Rogers, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor and Mandy and Penny Rogers, nieces of the bride, were flower girls.

Mr. Trent served as his son's best man.

Following the ceremony, the parents of the bride were hosts for a reception in the church social hall.

The bride was a senior at Appomattox County High School and the groom is a senior at V.P.I., Blacksburg.

After a short wedding trip, the couple will make their home in Blacksburg, where both Mr. and Mrs. Trent will continue their education.

Offciates At Son's Wedding

The Reverend O. C. Smith, of Rt. 2, Appomattox, will be the officiating minister at the marriage of Miss Joan Elizabeth Murray, of Baltimore to his son, Mr. Robert Wayne Smith.

The wedding will be an event of Saturday, October 24, at noon at St. Thomas Church, Almond, New York. Mrs. O. C. Smith will also be attending.

Mr. Robert Wayne Smith has recently received a degree in accounting from the University of Baltimore. He is employed by Crown Oil Co.

The Rev. and Mrs. Vergil Hudson and daughter, Lynette, spent Saturday at Roanoke College, Salem, Va. attending a part of the activities planned for parent's week end. Their daughter, Leonda, is a first year student.

J. C. Garrett

Garden Club To Hear VPI Specialist

The Appomattox Garden Club will meet Oct. 26th at 7:30 p.m. at the V.P.I. District Office on Main Street. Mr. J. C. Garrett, V.P.I. Extension Specialist will take to the Club about "Community Beautification". Mr. Garrett is a Specialist on Community Landscape Improvement. At V.P.I. his professional responsibilities include leadership in programs for youth and adult work in home landscape design, community and general environmental improvement. The program approach is basically channeled through the local cooperative extension agent's offices. Methods include: training local leaders; program guidance; preparation of publications and teaching aids; and the utilization of general mass media communicative methods. Special program emphasis is being placed on preservation and utilization of natural beauty; concern for areas of historic interest; organized projected planning and cooperative efforts between organizations and individuals.

Mr. Garrett's affiliation and participation in National Cleanest City Conference; National Park and Recreation Association; Virginia Citizens Planning Association and other related organizations; qualifies him as an outstanding and interesting speaker on the subjects of Beautification.

Members will bring flower arrangements to be judged, "Autumn Flair" as the subject; also any horticultural specimen.

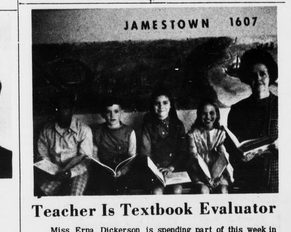
W. Burke (left) and Mrs. C. T. Moses, Jr. (right). Approximately 85 clubs were competing in six different classes at the meeting held in Danville Wed., Oct. 14 from 2 to 4 p.m.



Teacher Is Textbook Evaluator

Miss Erna Dickerson is spending part of this week in Richmond as a textbook evaluator working with the State Textbook evaluator working with the State Textbook adoption Committee. During the past spring and summer she has received dozens of reading, spelling and handwriting texts from publishers for consideration and review. Her evaluation will help determine the State Adopted List of textbooks for grades 1-7 in reading, spelling and handwriting for 1971. Her fourth graders at Appomattox Primary have helped to move part of the mountain of books from classroom to car. Their most recent project – a pictorial display of early Jamestown with chalk mural, miniature forts, Indians and settlers. Among those taking part; (from left) Carl Watson, Benny Harvey, Carol Beaty and Susan Langford.
